

Stile's Science Week

Art of Science competition

Win a pair of Apple AirPods!

- Colour the image on this page
- Submit your entry via artofscience@stileeducation.com
- Entries close at 11.59pm October 1st 2024

Earl the Victorian Grassland Earless Dragon

In an astonishing rediscovery, the Victorian grassland earless dragon – a critically endangered lizard that was presumed to be extinct – was recently found in grasslands in western Victoria after more than 50 years.

Ecologists and specialist dog trainers from Zoos Victoria are training a wildlife detection dog squad to see if these super-sniffing canines can be used to find more populations of our dragon friends!

Stile